

THE FREE-THROW LINE

In basketball, the free-throw line marks where a player must stand to take a free throw. The free-throw line is also known as the foul line or charity stripe.

Purpose

- To indicate the location where a player must stand to take a free throw
- To separate the restricted area from the rest of the court

